inside AUBURN ARENA

The Auburn Arena is a showcase for Auburn University and provides first-class, state-of-the-art facilities for athletics programs such as the men's and women's basketball teams and gymnastics. In addition, the arena serves as a spectacular setting for a variety of entertainment and cultural events.

With seating capacity of 9,000, the Auburn Arena provides a true home-court advantage for the Tigers and gives fans an intimate setting that puts them in the middle of the action. Featuring chair back seats along with bleacher seating for students, the Auburn Arena offers better sight lines moving fans closer to the court. The furthest seat is a mere 43 feet in elevation from court-side, compared to 60 feet in elevation at Beard-Eaves-Memorial Coliseum, with two-thirds of the seats in the new facility being less than 27 feet in elevation from court-side.

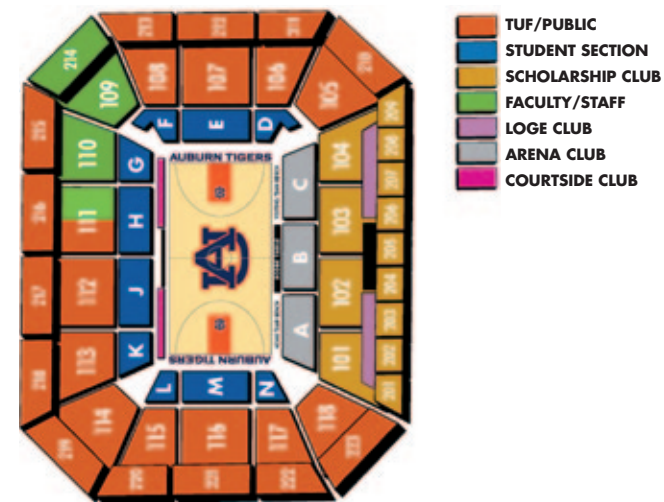

Other features of the Auburn Arena include a high definition video board with full message/information center technology, the AU Team Store, the relocated Lovelace Hall of Honor and three food courts.

The Auburn Arena is also an important recruiting tool for the Auburn men's and women's basketball teams. It features 29,000 square feet of student-athlete facilities such as men's and women's locker room suites with sports medicine facilities, lounges and team meetings rooms. In addition to the two-court practice facility that allows the men's and women's teams to practice simultaneously, a strength and conditioning center is also an important feature of the Auburn Arena.
